COURSE DESCRIPTION

A study of the: research and theory in the psychology of learning, cognition, and motivation; factors that impact learning, and application of learning strategies. Theoretical models of strategic learning, cognition, and motivation serve as the conceptual basis for the introduction of college-level student academic strategies. Students use assessment instruments (e.g., learning inventories) to help them identify their own strengths and weaknesses as strategic learners. Students are ultimately expected to integrate and apply the learning skills discussed across their own academic programs and become effective and efficient learners. Students developing these skills should be able to continually draw from the theoretical models they have learned.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this course, the student will be able to

1. Understand the learning theories.
2. Apply the learning theories and strategies to achieve personal, academic, and career success.
3. Identify factors that impact learning and apply techniques and strategies to achieve personal, financial, academic, and career success.
4. Use technological tools to solve problems and communicate effectively.

ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE STATEMENT

Lamar Institute of Technology (LIT) recognizes the recent advances in Artificial Intelligence (AI), have changed the landscape of many career disciplines and will impact many students in and out of the classroom. To prepare students for their selected careers, LIT desires to guide students in the ethical use of these technologies and incorporate AI into classroom instruction and assignments appropriately. Appropriate use of AI is at the discretion of the instructor. Students are reminded that all submitted work must be their own original work unless otherwise specified. Students should contact their instructor with any questions as to the acceptable use of AI in their courses.

DISABILITIES STATEMENT

The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 are federal anti-discrimination statutes that provide comprehensive civil rights for persons with disabilities. LIT

STARFISH

LIT utilizes an early alert system called Starfish. Throughout the semester, you may receive emails from Starfish regarding your course grades, attendance, or academic performance. Faculty members record student attendance, raise flags and kudos to express concern or give praise, and you can make an appointment with faculty and staff all through the Starfish home page. You can also login to Blackboard or MyLIT and click on the Starfish link to view academic alerts and detailed information. It is the responsibility of the student to pay attention to these emails and information in Starfish and consider taking the recommended actions. Starfish is used to help you be a successful student at LIT.

STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT STATEMENT

It is the responsibility of all registered Lamar Institute of Technology students to access, read, understand and abide by all published policies, regulations, and procedures listed in the LIT Catalog and Student Handbook. ADDITIONAL COURSE POLICIES/INFORMATION

- Attendance for Online Courses: It is worth noting that regularly missing assignment deadlines and falling behind on assignment submissions is a strong indicator that a student will not pass the course. Please contact the instructor via Blackboard message or email PRIOR to the assignment deadline if you are experiencing any trouble on assignments so she can help you!
- Grades
 - Assignment(s) will be due on Blackboard every two weeks (Sundays at 11:59 pm). All assignments submitted by students by the grading deadline will be graded by the instructor no later than the following Friday at 2:00pm.
 - The instructor has set up your Blackboard course to automatically designate a zero on students' assignments submitted after the due date, however that does not mean that you cannot submit assignments late. Once the instructor grades the late assignment, that grade will replace the zero. However, December 2 will be the last day of the semester to submit late assignments.
 - Review any comments that the instructor makes on your graded assignments. If points are deducted, the instructor will give recommendations on how to improve the assignment. If the grade on the submitted assignment is too low, the instructor may also invite the student to revise his/her assignment to receive a higher grade in the feedback section.
- Communication
 - Please feel free to address me as Ms. Carolyn, Ms. Heflin or Instructor Heflin. I often sign off on my messages informally as Carolyn.

- Be sure to read weekly course announcements on Blackboard messages carefully and mark the announcement as read. Announcement information is usually an important reminder to students in the course.
- The instructor has no preference in communication. Students can use either Blackboard Message or email. Due to student volume, instructor may ask you to follow up in-person conversations in written communication so that she will not accidentally forget.
- Most importantly, please do not think that you are all alone taking this online course. The instructor is here with you and wants to help you to succeed! Please do not hesitate to contact her!
